ADDRESS

TO THE

Nervous and Debilitated,

Who suffer as have been protracted from hidden causes, in which cases require prompt treatment to prevent premature decay. If you are suffering or have lost the fire and vigor of youth, involuntary discharges which if not checked produce palpitation of the heart, loss of sleep, nervous irritability, weakness of the kidneys, or any other urinary organs, or pour kidneys, if you may get out of order, is your urine at times thick milky or ropy or has it a deposit on settling? Does it look like a dark cloud rise to the top? Or is a sediment at the bottom after it has stood awhile? Do you have spells of short breathing or dyspepsia? Are you bowels constipated? Do you have spells of fainting, rushes of blood to the head? Is your memory impaired? Is your mind constantly dwelling on this subject? Do you feel nervous, moping, fearful of any of life? Do you wish to be left alone, to get away from everybody? Does any little thing make you start or jump? Is your sleep broken or disturbed? Has the color of your eyes brilliant? Has bloom on your cheek as bright? Do you enjoy yourself in society as well? Do you pursue your business with the same energy? Do you feel as much confidence in yourself? Are your spirits dull and flagging given to fits of melancholy? If so, do you have disease of the liver or dyspepsia? Have you restless nights? Your body weak, your knees weak, your appetite poor, and you attribute this to long or other ailment?

Now reader self abuse, venereal diseases badly treated and improperly cured are all capable of producing a wreck of the generative organs. The organs of generation when in perfect health, make the man. Do you think that those bold, defiant, urgent, pushing successful business men are always those whose generative organs are in perfect health? You never hear such men complain of being troubled by nervousness, of palpitation of the heart.

Now many men from the effects of excesses, have brought about that state of weakness in Sexual Organs that has reduced the general system so much as to induce almost every other disease—like many paralysis, spinal affections, suicide and almost every other form of disease which humanity is heir to and the real cause of the trouble scarcely ever suspected, and have used remedies for all but the right one.

Diseases of those organs require the use of a Diuretic. HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU is a great Diuretic and is a certain cure for diseases of the Bladder, Kidneys Gravel, Dropsy, Organic Weakness, Female Complaints, General Debility and all diseases of the Sexual Organs, whether existing in Male or Female, from whatever cause originated, and no matter of how long standing.

If no remedy has yet suited you, Consumption or Insanity may ensue. Our fame and blood are supported from these sources and the health and happiness and that of posterity depends upon prompt and reliable remedy.

THE HAMPDEN ROAD DISASTER

The Coroner's jury having concluded their investigation and rendered their finding as to the causes of the recent frightful disaster upon the Maine Central Railroad, the subject is now brought directly before the tribunal of public opinion where the final and practical verdict must be rendered in all such cases.—The immediate cause of the disaster, as demonstrated by the voluminous testimony in inquest is declared in the three short words "four first report 'A Rotten Bridge' This fact was so palpable to admit of any doubt and the inquiries of the jury were directed to the solution of the important question Who is responsible for the death of all has hazarded life and limb for this and perhaps for years The conclusion is reached by the inquest have already been given to the public and divested of fine phrase logic are substantially that which the rough examiner on would have detected unsoundness of the bridge no such rough examiner on had been made either the officials of the Company or the Railroad Commissioners The responsibility is thus placed upon both with a further intimation that life and limb would have been safer on this road without Railroad Commissioners, because with out them no division of responsibility could possibly be alleged

There can be no doubt in the mind of any one who has read the testimony, that the fall of this bridge is attributable to a lack of thorough precaution on the part of those whose duty it was to satisfy themselves of its safety There can be no doubt that the failure to use all care and diligence in matter of such serious hazards amounts to a culpable negligence and imposes a heavy weight of responsibility upon the parties — But while the public is justified in holding all concerned to a stern accountability there is no reason in the extravagant denunciations which would be warranted only by proofs of malicious intent that are entirely wanting in this case It is not to be presumed that any employe would intentionally hazard his own life the lives of others and the property of his employers or that the Railroad Commissioners could be thus guilty The responsibility for a result that has resulted fatally will be a sufficient burden for any man to bear and intemperate accusations can add little to its weight The public are concerned that this disaster shall furnish a lesson for the future and this lesson can best be taught by an impartial dispassionate search of the more as well as the immediate causes of disaster

While the weight of censure has fallen heavy upon the Railroad Commissioners who last inspected this bridge, we see nothing in the evidence to show that previous examinations were any more thorough or careful than the other members of the Board would have used any more care or caution than did Mr Wildes The fault has not been with an individual but with a system and all the evidence in this case has proved nothing, it has shown that the ordinary examinations of the Commissioners have been relatively inoperative to the protection of the public If working this bridge has been unsafe it is impossible to see but it is impossible that the incidental examinations have extended back at the time prior to the appointment of the present Commissioners—The inspections have been customarily superficial and the presumption has simply disclosed an habitual loose way which to other interests than those of public safety The Commissioners have doubtless placed much upon the State officers for employes and the latter have been too apt to regard the question of the Commissioners as relieving them from responsibility The Commissioners and have led many to rest in the Railroad officers but to accept their road as condition of their continuance in office Commissioners have given them the performance of their duty The Commissioners are sent by the people to see that the companies make the proper provision for the public safety and if they be excused by accepting the representations of those of whose faithfulness they are expected to assure themselves by full inspection of their work

If the Maine Central officials should have discovered the condition of this bridge It was their duty to detect its unsoundness, which might have been suspected from the age of the structure and the result has proved that they all have been discovered if due diligence had been used The increase of weight and speed in the trains should have caused an usual care in examining the strength and safety of the line and this disaster fails to indicate the exercise of such prudence How far the so numerous recent accidents may justly be ascribed to a defective organization of the management, we cannot say but they should certainly warn the directors that the safety of life and the interests of the corporation demand that a great through line of railway shall be governed by the most thorough and efficient system The Maine Central has therefore maintained a remarkable immunity from disaster, and none can ascertain so readily as the directors to what changes, if any, the recent mishaps may be attributed — Much as we are pleased at the introduction of express trains and improved accommodations, they are not so indispensable as a solid roadbed and sound bridges, and we have a right to expect that these welcome improvements shall not be purchased at the cost of safety The Company has had a severe lesson in this disaster, both in the pecuniary loss and the shock to public confidence. We believe that it has already been heeded and that hereafter extra vigilance will be demanded of every person entrusted with responsibility

Of the Commissioners, we are inclined to say that the inefficiency developed in this case does not prove that a proper supervision on behalf of the people would not be useful. Public confidence in the present Board has been shaken, because the crash has occurred during their incumbency, and they must answer not only for their own negligence, but for the system which has encouraged it. If the Railroad Commission is to be useful to the State, its membership certainly is held to a strict accountability, and the Legislature can profitably devote careful consideration to the overhauling of the present machinery and the devising of proper safeguards for the future.

The fact that railroad corporations are held pecuniarily responsible for damage to person and property, will always be the strongest incentive to caution, unless we provide that fatal negligence shall be punished as a capital offense, and the surest guarantee of the faithfulness of public officers will be found in the consciousness that inefficiency or neglect of duty will meet a prompt and inexorable public condemnation Whatever circumstances of custom or misconception may be urged in palliation of past errors, this disaster has shown the rottenness of the system of inspection as well as the rottenness of the bridge and after this warning no excuse will be accepted for negligence which tampers with the possible horrors that only the hand of Providence could have averted from the disaster on the Hampden Road

What a comment it was upon the management of the New York ring, that when a false dispatch was published in London that Fisk had been killed in the riots—from which the haughty Colonel kept himself uncommonly safe—the stock of the Erie railroad at once advanced The securities of the city of New York have been driven from the Berlin Exchange, by the development of the rascality which controls them This is not strange — When a city trebles its debt in three years, and has nothing to show for it but the plastering on an unfinished court house, and the luxury and extravagance of the officials under whose charge the increase has been made, prudent men do not like to invest in these securities, and honest men at a distance, who are regarded as in some sort responsible for the character of what they sell, do not like to deal in them

The eloquent speech of Hon James G Blaine at Saratoga of which we received an imperfect abstract by telegraph concludes with the following forcible and eloquent words

But, gentlemen, I must close I have detained you too long already and were I to claim your attention while I recited the achievements of the Republican party during the period of its national power, the night itself would give place to the day before I could finish I point you to a continent introduced to day at the foot of a slave I point you to a Constitution rounded and perfected in all the elements of civil rights and personal liberty I point you to the credit and currency that bore us triumphantly through the severest of wars, and I have assured to us the amplest prosperity in the time of peace I point you to a nation of 40 000,000 of people, the freest, happiest and most prosperous on the globe, and, finally, I point you to the fact that the policies and measures which commanded these were the policies and measures of the Republican party

Mr Alexander H Stephens is not easily cajoled A short time since the World, followed by a pack of Southern journals under took to dispose of the Vice President of the Confederacy by saying that it was of no consequence what he held to now, he would support the Democratic candidate in 1872. To which the cautious veteran replies

"How this will turn out, if we are in life time and events will determine We make no hasty or rash promises for the future".

This looks awkward but Mr Stephens goes on to make a definite threat of bolting" He says

Of one thing the World however, may be assured, and that is, we shall never support, by counsel or vote, either any one of the active perpetrators of the great fraud attempted to be imposed upon the people of this country in the matter of the so called amendments to the Constitution, or any one of the accessories after the fact to these most monstrous outrages"

The Democracy, as far as national policy is concerned will, therefore, be placed between two fires the North will not stand re action, the South will not submit to progress

SENATOR MORTON AT ST LOUIS

Senator Morton of Indiana, spoke in the Temple at St Louis, Mo., Wednesday night to one of the largest audiences ever congregated in that city After referring to the difficulties which the Republican party has to encounter because some of its members are not satisfied without the party enters of some great reform everyday, the Senator passed to the subject of amnesty and said that but one disability remained upon those engaged in rebellion No man who had taken an oath to support the Constitution of the United States and then committed perjury shall be eligible to hold office Jefferson Davis has as much right to vote as any man The class of men covered by the 14th amendment does not exceed 30,000 As a member of the Senate I never refused to vote to relieve the disabilities of any man who asked it over his own signature The class of men whom I will never vote to relieve, are those who left the United States Army and Congress to engage in the rebellion Such men as Davis, Toombs and Breckenridge, who made a great national funeral at which more than 400,000 men were buried The Senator in discussing the civil service reform, said that he was opposed to the proposition that government clerks hold an office for life If the Supreme Court were made over he would not put members here for life Ten thousand clerks would constitute an aristocracy sufficiently strong to revolutionize the government in twenty five years The Senator spoke strongly in favor of free schools and educated labor and charged the Democratic party with leading the assault against free schools He predicted that the next Congress would reduce the taxation $50 000,000 speaking of the recent riot in New York, he said that the leading Democratic papers of that city justified the Mayor's order from which it is inferred that religious liberties are not safe in the hands of the Democracy He defended the Ku-Klux bill in strong terms saying it was one of the best measures ever passed in Congress. The more passage saved hundreds of lives and thousands of cases from torture He had but little faith in the "new Democratic departure He did not believe that the party had sincerely changed its opinions in so short a time. There is not one in a thousand of the Southern Democrats and not one in fifty of the Northern Democrats that accept the amendments, but they cannot come into power while the amendments and reconstruction acts are still an issue If the Democrats get control of the government the South will dictate the policy Referring to the outrages in Missouri, he said he did not come to take part in local troubles He would bury them out of sight. "I want all Republicans to rally for the great principles of the Republican party I believe the dominance of that party is necessary to the salvation of the country It is simply a question between a Democratic and Republican President There is no middle ground." I ask you, in view of these considerations, to come together in the great contest before you for the nominee of the next National Republican Convention, whoever he may be I pledge myself to support him, whether he be Greeley Dumont, Brutus or Grant." (Laughter.)

I go for a nigger", Mr Morton—"I think the government would be safer in the hands of a great many, than in those of a Democratic President,"

He thought Ben Grant's chance a little the best at present and denied the assertion that President Grant had violated the Constitution in the San Domingo matter He defended his action in protecting American interests during the pending of the treaty negotiations, he opposed, state sovereignty as taught by the Democracy and said there was no safety for the people without centralization The greatest idea of the Republican was national unity. If we abandon that we are not a nation, but simply an aggregation of independent States which at some time or other will go to pieces.

Harper's Weekly says. "Not the least remarkable fact in connection with the disclosures of city frauds made by the "Times" is the utter folly and stupidity of the various explanations that have been published. They are beneath contempt."

MAINE HISTORICAL SOCIETY.

Interesting exercises of this society are to be held on the 24th and 25th inst., at Pemaquid and Monhegan

At Pemaquid new openings of remains of the ancient settlements there, are to be examined and a Historical Monumental Association inaugurated. Hon E. W Farley will make the opening speech and be followed, it is expected, by Ex-Presidents Woods and Harris of Bowdoin College, and by Gov Perham and others of the State.

On the second field day the "rock writings" of Monhegan will be examined and a pleasant and instructive interchange of historical views with gentlemen from abroad as well as at home, is expected

The object of the Society is to stimulate the interest of our people in the study of our local history, and to rescue that of our State from oblivion and place Maine in the history of New England, in the position before the world to which she is entitled as a leading State, if not a Mother of States. For Maine had a history before Plymouth was heard of Medical Mistakes.

It took the faculty about a thousand years to discover that the best way to cure diseases was not to render the patient too weak to continue with it Within the last twenty years however the whole system of medical practice has been changed for the better In diseases or complaints caused by excessive heat for instance, the doctors no longer recommend the reduction of the invalid's strength by prostrating medicines The vast success which has attended the use of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters as a remedy for debility, has given even the most prejudiced members of the old school an insight into the only true and rational theory of cure Can the lifeless calomel and overpowering doses of opium, and now among the obsolete nostrums of another age The lancet once as much the legitimate weapon of the physician as the sword is of the soldier, is seldom drawn from its case The principle is no longer drained from the veins by the quart, and water gruel for the emaciated invalid has ceased to be considered an appropriate diet Vigor is the motto of the rational members of the profession, and they understand, at last the value of a sterling vegetable tonic So also, with the people at large I without consulting medical men at all they have adopted the bitters as a household remedy thereby economizing both cash and health

Now the fact that Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is sold in large quantities not never in bulk and that the abortions springing up in various parts of the country, and sometimes offered as substitutes for the great national specific, are all utterly worthless

CONSUMPTION.

ITS CURE AND ITS PREVENTIVE,

By J. H. SCHENCK, M. D.

Many a human being has passed away for whose death there was no other reason than the neglect of known and indisputable proved means of cure Those near and dear to family and friend are sleeping the dreamless slumber in a whole hall they might easily adopted and availed themselves of his wonderfully efficacious medicines they would not have fallen

Dr Schenck has in his own case proved that whenever symptoms of vitality remains that vitality by his medicines will life time for their use, is quickened into a healthful vigor

In this statement there is nothing presumptuous. To the faith of the invalid is made no representation that is not abundantly substantiated by living and visible works The theory of the cure by Dr Schenck's medicines is as simple as unfailing Its public only requires no argument. It itself measuring self consuming The Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are the two weapons with which the citadel of the malady is assailed. Two-thirds of the cases of consumption originate in dyspepsia and a functionally disordered Liver With this condition the bronchial tubes sympathize" with the stomach They respond to the mortific action of the Liver Here then comes the culminating result, and the setting in with all its distressing symptoms of

CONSUMPTION.

The Mandrake Pills are composed of one of Nature's noblest gifts—the people have felt it ever They possess all the blood searching alterative properties of calomel but unlike calomel, they

'LEAVE NO STING BEHIND'

The work of cure is now beginning The vitiated and mucous deposits in the bowels and in the alimentary canal are operated on The liver like a clock is wound up It assumes from 1 to 3 stools daily The stomach is responsively and the patient begins to feel that he is gaining in health.

A SUPPLY OF GOOD BLOOD.

The Seaweed Tonic, in conjunction with the Pills, permeates and assimilates with the food Chylification is now proceeding without improving Digestion becomes painless, and the cure is seen to be as lasting There is no more flatulence, no exacerbation of the stomach. An appetite sets in

Now comes the greatest Blood Purifier ever given for an indulgent Nature to suffering man. Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup comes in to perform its functions and to finish up the cure. It expectorates once upon its work Nature can not be hunted Consumption can not be imprisoned Diseased portions of the lungs in the form of gelatinous masses, dissolves them for expectoration, and in a very short time the malady is vanquished, it will not return thus the system is renovated and made new and the patient, in all the dignity of regained vigor, arises forth to enjoy the manhood or womanhood that was GIVEN UP AS LOST.

The second thing is the patients must stay in a warm room until they get well if it almost impossible to prevent taking cold when the lungs are diseased but I must be positive in a cure cannot be effected fresh air and riding out especially in this section of the country is the full and winter cure. I advise my Physicians who recommend that course lose their patients, if they I may be badly diseased, and yet because they are in the house they must not sit down quiet, they must walk about the room as much and as fast as the strength will bear, it gets up a good circulation of blood The patient will arise in good spirits—be determined to get well. This I as a great deal to do with the appetite and is the point to gain

To despair of cure after such evidence of its possibility in the worst cases and moral certainty in all others was and I Dr Schenck's personal statement to the Family of his own cure was in these modest words

Many years ago I was in the last stages of consumption confined to my bed, and at one time my physicians thought that I could not live a week then like a drowning man catching at straws, I heard of and obtained the preparations which I now offer to the public, and have made a perfect cure of me It seemed to me that I could feel them penetrate my whole system They seem to reach the matter in my lungs and I would spit up more than a pint of offensive yellow matter every morning for a long time. As soon as the matter was loosened, my cough grew better and night sweats all began to leave me and my appetite became so great that I was with difficulty kept from eating too much. I soon gained my strength and have grown in health ever since

I was weighed shortly after my recovery added the Doctor, then looking like a mere skeleton my weight was only twenty-seven pounds, my present weight is two hundred and twenty-five (225) pounds and for years I have enjoyed uninterrupted health.

Dr Schenck has discontinued his professional visits to New York and Boston. He is his son, Dr J H Schenck, will still continue to see patients at their office in 15 North Sixth street, Philadelphia, every Saturday from 9 A M to 3 P M Those who think they can consult him with the Respirometer will be charged $5. The Respirometer declares the exact condition of the lungs and patients can readily learn whether they are curable or not.

The directions for taking the medicines are adapted to the peculiar habits of a people. Follow these directions and kind Nature will do the rest, accepting that in same cases the Mandrake Pills are to be taken in increased doses the three medicines need no other accompaniments than the simple tonic medicine that accompany them First, create appetite, Dr Schenck's Seaweed Tonic is the most welcome symptom. When it comes, as it will come, let the patient rejoice, he will be a good sleeper, blood is once follows, the cough loosens the night sweat is abated. In a short time both of the morbid symptoms are gone

The Schenck's medicines are constantly kept in sale of thousands of druggists throughout the country. At a laxative purgative, the Mandrake Pills are a standard preparation; whilst the Pulmonic Syrup, Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills may be required in some cases. Dr Schenck's Medicines are never injurious to the most delicate constitution, and are equally adapted to both sexes and all ages.

Dr Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup, Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are for sale by all druggists in Bangor and everywhere throughout the United States and Canada.

Walking in evening the city bands marched to the hotel where the Frenchmen were stopping and played American, Irish and French national airs and also Fenian tunes. There was no interference by the police.

The deputation reached Shelbourne Hotel at three o'clock, and in response to the calls of the people, came out in the balcony. Martin, a Member of Parliament, made an address to the crowd. VICE PRESIDENT COLFAX.

CHICAGO, Ill., Aug. 17.

Vice President Colfax addressed the Sunday School of the Congregational Church at Winona, Minn., last Sunday. He said among the happiest recollections of his life was the time he had spent in an infant class to which he had been taken by his mother when three years old. He was a teacher for 12 years in a Sunday School and one of the sweetest rewards of his life was the assurance of a young man about entering the ministry, that it was through his instrumentality that he had been led to that calling. He dwelt with much emphasis on the beneficial influence exerted on society by the Sunday School. Before leaving, he wished to give two sentiments to the young people before him. First—Be masters of your temper; hasty words cause more unhappiness than from any other source. Second—Never allow yourself to do an act privately that you would blush to have exposed.

EXTRAORDINARY AFFAIR.

SING SING, N. Y., 17.

An extraordinary affair occurred at Sing Sing Prison to-day. At a quarter before twelve a tug boat, having a canal boat in tow and going north, was observed approaching the prison dock with considerable rapidity.—The guard warned the pilot to keep off, and the warning was heeded, apparently. Notwithstanding the steamer glided close to the pier; immediately twelve convicts, as if understanding the whole movement, made a rush from their work, leaped aboard the canal boat and ran pell mell over it to the tug and into the engine room. The engineer was disabled, and one of the convicts dashed into the pilot house and took charge of the wheel. Immediately the tug was headed for the shore. The alarm was given as soon as possible, and many of the regular prison guards rushed towards the pier, they aimed their pieces at the convict pilot and shouted for him to stop, but he crouched down out of sight and the vessel still kept moving. Word was sent to Sparta, a mile south, where a sailing vessel was procured and sent in chase.—Guards of the prison also started up the track to Sing Sing and got a sloop under way filled with armed men. At this time the greatest excitement prevailed, as the news of the break became noised about Sing Sing Village, and hundreds of people hurried to the river.—One of the vessels sent out to capture the convicts, overhauled the tug near Rockland, when the convicts took to the small boats in the vicinity, which some boys had, and moving quickly to the shore escaped to the mountains. One convict who got into a boat with a boy was pressed so close that he seized the boy and placed him before him, so that the guard would not fire. The guard did fire, not at the escaping convict, however, but with the intention of intimidating him, and cause him to surrender. He kept on pulling and reached the shore where he joined his associates. Mr. Ladlin, inspector, states that the convicts are now in the woods near Rockland, and says they will be recaptured, as they are surrounded.

It is believed that this affair was planned two weeks ago by persons in New York city. The tug boat was the Dean Richmond, Capt. Norton, and the engineer was a Mr. Farwell, a boy was also on board, named Farrell. Both are under arrest.

The tug left New York at 6.30 this morning. The captain says that two men hired him to come to Sing Sing to convey a load of furniture to New York, and were to pay him seven dollars an hour. They hired him for the same purpose about a fortnight ago, and he came up, but after landing the men said the furniture was not ready, and they would go back. They paid the captain one hundred dollars on board the tug to-day. After the tug was captured there was found on board the convicts' clothing, a number of false whiskers and mustaches and several revolvers which were brought from New York. All the convicts had ample time to change their clothing for the suits brought up in the boat. After the tug left the prison dock the escaping convicts cut the canal boat loose so as to give more speed to their vessel. As soon as the affair occurred all the convicts in the prison were locked up and every guardsmen was sent in pursuit. It is believed that two of the men who planned the escape are in the mountains with the convicts. It is possible that desperate fighting will take place in the mountains on the west shore before the convicts are captured.

A dispatch has been received from Superintendent Kelso stating that two men had been arrested at Englewood, N. J., supposed to belong to the gang which escaped. Before dark tonight musketry firing was heard in the direction of Rockland, on the west shore, and it is thought that an encounter has taken place between the convicts and the pursuing guard.

MURDER

JACKSON, Miss., Aug. 17.

A few nights ago between 40 and 50 negroes all armed, assembled at Holly Springs, and took a negro named Florence Washington from his dwelling and murdered him. Most of the negroes engaged in the affair have been arrested.

—No police items yesterday.

—There was a beautiful display of the northern lights last evening.

—Capt. Wm. P. Vose, 2d U. S. Artillery, is visiting relatives in this city.

—We hear many complaints that people persist in driving or leading horses and cattle on the sidewalks, on both sides of the stream.

—The young gentlemen from this city who are making an excursion along the coast in the yacht Planet, gave a very successful concert at Bar Harbo, a few evenings since.

—The proprietors of the Sanford steamers are erecting works on their wharf in this city, for the manufacture of gas from coal oil, to be used on the steamers.

—We learn that the Stockholders of the Fort Point (Wassaumkeag) Hotel Company propose holding a clam-bake on the 6th of September.

—No business of importance was done in the Supreme Judicial Court yesterday. The case of State vs. A. L. Spencer was called in the morning, but was continued until Monday next, and there was no other case ready for trial.

—The surviving members of the First First Maine Heavy Artillery, will celebrate their ninth anniversary next Tuesday, by an excursion to Eagle Island, on the steamer C. B. Sanford. None but members of the regiment and relatives will take part in the excursion.

—A false alarm of fire was raised about half past ten o'clock last evening, probably by some one whose obliquity of vision mistook the northern lights for a terrestrial conflagration. No. 3 hand tub was taken out, but not having hose enough to reach the Aurora, was returned to the engine house.

—A very heavy thunder shower passed over this city about 5 o'clock yesterday morning. The lighting was exceedingly sharp, the thunder rolled continuously, and rain fell in torrents for about half an hour. Some of the streets were badly gullied by the rain.

—We are informed that a lady of this city, 84 years of age, in one day recently spun three skeins of yarn from the rolls, doubled-and-twisted two of them, scoured the yarn, and was all ready to go to knitting about 8 o'clock in the afternoon.

—The citizens of Belfast failed to raise the required amount $2,000, to secure the location of the Sate Fair at Belfast. Some opposition was manifested, the committee appointed to solicit subscriptions obtained over $1,800, but not enough to secure the success of the enterprise.

—The Methodist Campmeeting at Wesleyan Grove, Northport, commences next Monday. The grounds have been enclosed with a high fence, and ten cents admission will be charged for each person. Another campmeeting on the east side of the river, by the Methodists, is appointed to come off the next week following.

—We notice that our item about John Foley's attempt at suicide, published Tuesday morning, appears in the telegraphic columns of the Portland Argus of Wednesday, and an item concerning the E. & N. A. Railway was printed Thursday morning of last week, was returned to us by telegraph from St. John, N. B., to the Associated Press, Tuesday night of this week.

—Postmaster Farnham has obtained at his own expense, and placed in a conspicuous position in the vestibule of the Post Office, a clock-dial with movable hands, over which an inscription reads "Western mail arrives at ——." When the mail is late, which is frequently the case, the hands on the dial are set at the hour and minute at which it will arrive, so that people can see for themselves how soon they can obtain their mail, without the trouble of asking questions.

—The second sentence in our report of Col. Wides' testimony before the Coroners Jury on Wednesday, read: "We discovered on Saturday, what we did not in June, that the joints of the lower chord were drawing apart and had opened about one-quarter of an inch," whereas it should have been—"We discovered on Saturday, that the joints of the lower chord were drawing apart and had opened about one-quarter of an inch since our examination in June."

THE JAPS COMING. The Satsuma Royal Japanese Troupe, who have attained a wide celebrity for their wonderful performances in jugglery, posturing, and balancing, are coming to this city, and will give entertainments in Norombega Hall on Monday and Tuesday evenings of next week. The Portland Press says of them:

Taken as a whole, the performance was eminently satisfactory, and far surpassed any similar performance which had before been given in this city. * * * * We can assure all who may attend that they will be perfectly satisfied with the entertainment.

A SHARP RACE. Since the fourth of July, the Police have had a warrant against William alias "Sager" Herrin, but that individual has made himself scarce in this vicinity, and the guardians of the peace have been unable to find him. Last night Herrin made his appearance on Harlow St., and an attempt was made to capture him, but he smelt a rat, got a good start and ran like a fox. Officer D. L. Clark was in close pursuit, and as he went up York St, Herrin, who had managed to get hold of a brickbat, turned and threw it at the officer. The missile was well aimed, but Clark dodged it, and returned the compliment with two shots from his revolver. It is not known whether they took effect, as Herrin "hooked it" over the hill like a race horse, his speed rendering pursuit useless.

HORSE TROT. The races at the Webster Trotting Park, Orono, yesterday afternoon, were witnessed by a large crowd, and were quite closely contested. Ash Savage's buckskin gelding "G. L. Fox" won the 2:45 race and first money—$65—in three straight heats; time 2:37, 2:40, and 2:40½. The trotting for the sweepstakes was very lively. C. F. Coplan's black gelding "Green Mountain Boy" won the first two heats in 2:36 and 2:35, but Sam Jacobs' chestnut gelding "Troublesome" won the last three heats and race in 2:36½ 2:37, and 2:38. By some misunderstanding, about 20 Bangor men missed the return train in the evening. Some of them rode home on "shanks mare," and others walked. It is said that Weston would have been astonished had he seen the time they made; but we do not publish it, for if there should be a foot race at the County Fair next fall, the printed record would, we fear, debar some of them from entering.

THE VISITING FIREMEN.

DIRIGO ENGINE CO., NO. 3, OF ROCKLAND, ON A VISIT TO BANGOR—RECEPTION BY EAGLE CO. NO. 3, OF THIS CITY—"A GOOD TIME GENERALLY."

As previously announced in these columns, Dirigo Engine Company, No. 3, of Rockland, arrived in this city yesterday on the steamer Katahdin; but owing to the thick fog down river, the boat was delayed, and instead of reaching this port at noon, the usual hour of arrival, it did not until 3.20 o'clock in the afternoon. Eagle Engine Co. No. 3, of this city, accompanied by a drum corps, was on the wharf, and when the visitors arrived, received them on Front St. Most of the Eagles were down river on an excursion all of last week, and consequently only about half the company was able to turn out yesterday afternoon, the rest being kept in at their place of business making up for time lost on their tour; but those who could, gladly came out to meet their guests.

The Dirigo Company numbered about 40 men, and have the following officers:—L. D. Carver, Foreman; H. A. Hagley, Second Foreman; C. F. Barns, Foreman of Hose; Daniel Rhodes, Secretary; James Rennie, Treasurer. The men are all fine looking, muscular fellows, who look as if they could "come down on the brakes" in good style at a fire or a trial of engines. Their uniform is a double-breasted scarlet jacket, faced with light blue, and trimmed with brass buttons bearing the figure 3; pants dark blue, with gold stripes on the seams; hats, regulation fire-hats of black leather, having the company name and number, and the word Rockland on the front; fatigue caps of the navy style, belts of white leather, with gilt clasps, and bearing the name, number and location of the company on a crimson ground on the back.

The Thomaston Band, 18 pieces, Fred. Meserve, Leader, accompany the Dirigos, and their excellent music on the street was the subject of much favorable comment.

A line was formed on Front St. and the companies marched up Union St, down Main, up Hammond and along Columbia St, to the house of No. 3 Company, where the firemen marched up into the fire hall, which is fitted and furnished in a style which would be creditable to any parlor in Maine. After a short time spent in an interchange of social greetings, the men filed down stairs to the lower story of the house, where they sat down to a capital furnished by the Eagles. Owing to the lateness of the hour, speech-making was done away with, and the wands were discussed in a manner most complimentary to their excellence. After dinner the companies formed in line again and marched through some of the principal streets and up to the summit of where the fine view of our city and its surroundings was enjoyed by all. The rest of the afternoon was occupied in looking over the town—the "Three's boys" escorting their guests to all the points of interest.

Owing to the short notice of their coming, it was found impossible to give the Dirigos a complimentary Ball in the evening—besides, the weather was too warm for dancing with any comfort. At 9 o'clock P. M., the companies took supper in Three's house, and during the evening, the Eagles took many of their guests out to ride in carriages.

The Dirigo Company was lodged at the Franklin House last night, and the Band at the Harriman House. They will cave for home on the Katahdin at 11 o'clock this forenoon.

A CATHOLIC RIOT. A large number of persons, including a form dable riotous element, arrived on Wednesday evening at the hall in Ogdensburg, N. Y., in which Bar-de-Carmon, the anti-Catholic lecturer was mobbed Tuesday evening. The doors of the hall were closed, and on the arrival of the lecturer, he was conducted by the police for protection to the police headquarters, where a large mob assembled. Subsequently the authorities called for volunteers and a large number of citizens were sworn in as special policemen, and together with the regular force succeeded in clearing the streets, when the lecturer was escorted to his boarding house. An intense feeling against the mob prevails, and the citizens are organizing to vindicate the right of free speech. Offers of assistance have been received from the neighboring towns.

A MOTHER ACCIDENTALLY KILLED BY HER SON. James Townsend of Jersey City, went to Gowanus, L. I., Wednesday night, for the purpose of chastising his sister's son, Thomas Lewis, for some misconduct. A quarrel ensued, and Lewis drew a pistol and fired at his uncle but missed him, and hit his mother, Mrs. Francis Hopkins in the right breast, fatally wounding her. Young Lewis immediately delivered himself up to the police.

MURDER AND SUICIDE. Dyer Bangborn, a laborer 64 years old, killed his wife Nancy Pangborn, aged 44, with a potato masher, on Monday night, in his house near Frankfort, N. Y. After killing her, he went to his barn near by and hung himself. The deceased was a widow, and married Bangborn last September. The tragedy occurred, a week or two since, in the Autumn of Tragedy.

FUNERALS OF THE PITTSTON MINERS.—On Wednesday, at Pittston, Pa., over five thousand persons attended the funerals of the victims of the recent shaft disaster, at the Odd-Fellows' cemetery. A rude stand was constructed for the clergy, on part of which the coffins were laid, thirteen in all. The services were commenced by singing a hymn in Welch, and were very impressive throughout.

POLITICAL AND PERSONAL.

Hezgania, a young Japanese Prince, who has been in this country several months seeking an education, is dying of consumption at Troy, N. Y.

The Democratic Convention at Huntington, Pa., on Wednesday, instructed their delegates to the National Convention to vote for Gen. Hancock for President.

The bodies last found in the ruins caused by the Jersey City explosion, have been identified as those of Duranckey and McGee, the lessee's of the liquor saloon in the building.

The Battery boatmen of New York, have declined to accept the money given them for their services at the Westfield disaster, and it has been turned over to the relief of the sufferers now at Bellevue Hospital.

The Boston Traveller remarks that much more anxiety seems to be felt out of Massachusetts than within the State, touching the coming Governor. The great body of the Republicans at home are quite willing to leave the matter to the convention, and quite sure that whoever receives the nomination will be elected and will satisfactorily administer the duties of the office.

STATEN ISLAND FERRY OFFICIALS CONSIGNED TO THE TOMBS. Jacob Vanderbilt President of the Staten Island Ferry Company, William Braisted, Superintendent, and Henry Robinson, engineer, were brought before Coroner Keenan on Thursday morning and committed to the Tombs prison, the Coroner refusing to accept bail. The action of the Coroner has caused no little surprise as bail to any amount was offered and could be given. They were subsequently taken on a writ of habeas corpus before Judge Sutherland of the Supreme Court, to determine what amount of bail they must give, or remand them back to the Tombs. Coroner Keenan, in refusing bail, acted on the advice of District Attorney Garvin, who said it was not the rule to accept bail in cases of this kind, manslaughter in the third or fourth degree.

A Safe & Profitable INVESTMENT.

First Mortgage Bonds,

To a limited amount, upon a railroad which is well located for business, and which has been already largely constructed with the funds of its Stockholders, cannot be better or safer than sale. This security is increased if the Constructing Company is composed of men of high character, and of ample means for successfully carrying through any work that they undertake.

THE

GULF, COLORADO & SANTA FE RAILROAD COMPANY

Offer for sale a bond which combines these advantages to an unusual degree. The route lies between Mobile, Alabama, and Houston, Texas—passing through New Orleans, the New York of the South. Of the whole line of 575 miles, about two-thirds are already built, and the Stockholders have expended nearly TEN MILLION DOLLARS in the work. The bonds now offered are secured by a mortgage upon all that part of the line west of New Orleans, which has an enormous traffic assured to it from the start, this being the only rail connection by which the cotton, corn, cattle and other product one of Texas can reach New Orleans.

So important is this road considered to Louisiana, that the State has made very liberal grants in aid of the enterprise, by direct donations, by endorsement of second mortgage bonds, and by subscriptions to the stock of the Company, amounting in all to over eight million dollars.

Title First Mortgage

Eight Per cent Bonds

Now offered, are limited in amount to $12,500 per mile and are for $1,000 or £200 each, interest payable January and July, at the rate of 8 per cent. Currency or 7 per cent. Gold, at the option of the holder. Bonds registered if desired.

Among the leading Stockholders of the Company are Hon. ED. Morgan, Ex-Governor and Ex-U. S. Senator; Hon. John A. Griswold, Ex-Lieutenant-Governor, Troy, N. Y.; Hon. Oakes Ames, N. C., Massachusetts; Messrs. Morton Bliss & Co., 51 Von Hoffman & Co., J. & W. Seligman & Co., Harrison Burkee, and others, of New York; Benjamin E. Bates, President Bank of Commerce, Franklin Havens, President Merchants' Bank, Boston, and others, also well known.

The above statement of facts proves the SAFETY of these Bonds. Their PROFIT is equally manifest upon examination. They are sold for the present at 90, and accrued interest from July 1st. At this price they afford a certain income for forty-five years, of nearly nine per cent. upon their cost. One thousand dollars invested in these eight per cent. bonds will give the purchaser more than ninety-seven per cent. greater annual interest than he same amount invested in the new Government five Per Cents, while holders of Government Sixes will find a decided profit in selling them at present high prices, and re-investing in the New Orleans Mobile and Texas Bonds.

BY ORET BARTE.

They ran through the streets of the seaport town,
They peered from the decks of the ships where they
In the sad sea fog that whitening down
Was never so cold or white as this.
"Ho, Starbuck and Pinckey and Tenderden!
Run for your shallops, gather your men.
Scatter your boats on the lower bay!"

Not because for fear! In the dark midday
We hold that may be the exciting play,
Pelted with laughter and jeering obey,
Parted the moorings and drifted clear,
Dotted near beyond reacher call,
Fourteen-thirteen there were in all,
All adrift in the lower bay!

Not a hard-faced skipper, "Good luck go all!
She will not float till the morning tide!"
Not his wife "My darling will hear my call,
Whether in sea or heaven she bide."
And she lifted a wavering voice and high,
Wild and strange as a sea bird's cry,
Till they shuddered and wondered at her sore.

The fog drove down on each laboring crew,
Veiled each from each and the sky and shore,
There was not a sound but the breath they drew,
And the lap of water and stalk of oar;
And they felt the breath of the downs fresh blown
But not from the lips that had gone before.

The years come no more. But they tell the tale
That, when fogs are thick on the harbor reef,
The sea-faced fishers shorten sail,
For the signal they know will bring relief,—
For the voices that call in the dim bank
In the phantom hulk that drifts away
Through channels whose waters never fail.

Is but a foolish shipman's tale,
A theme for a poet's idle page,
And of whom the minds of scholars prevail,
And we be becalmed by the shores of Age,
We hear from the misty troubled shore
The echo of the ships gone before,
Drawing the surf to its anchorage.

The Vienna lady orchestra, under the management of Mr. Fred Rullman, will appear for the first time in America, at Steinway Hall, New York, September 21. The orchestra will consist of twenty-six young ladies, under the leadership of Mlle. Josephine Winnitch.

A set of furniture just sent from Europe for a private house in Boston is to black and gray covered with the brightest shade of rose colored satin, with the monogram embroidered in white on the back of each chair and centre of the sofa.

A new toad-toy presents a fac-simile of a toad ensconced in a little house at the end of an oblong tin platform. He is impassive, and apparently incapable of motion; but tempt him by placing a penny on the stand near the opposite end of the platform, and with the speed of lightning, he springs forward seizes the penny and swallows it.

Do you publish matrimonial notices for the subscribers to your paper? said a gentlemanly looking youth, stepping into our office the other morning. "Certainly, sir." "Well, then, I'll go and get married; for I don't see any other way of getting my name in your paper, since you have rejected all my poetical effusions."

It is related of the Count de Paris, the Orleanist candidate for the throne of France, that while walking with his wife on the boulevards of Paris a dozen hacks in succession were hailed for their use; but the drivers, imagining them to be country folk who were out to haggle, refused to stop, and the couple were forced to plod home on foot.

"I know what your beau's pretty white horse's name is," said a little boy to his grown-up sister, the other morning; "it's Damye." "Hush, Eddie," said the horrified sister, "that's a naughty word." "Well, I don't care if it is," said the juvenile, "that's his name, 'cos last night I was outside the fence when he stopped at the front gate, and I heard him say 'Whoa, Damye.'"—[Ex.

HOME MANUFACTURE.—Two old plowmen down East were telling tough stories of their exploits in breaking up new ground. The liar was taken off the bush by this yarn:

"Twas up in Dixmont, twenty-seven years ago this spring, I was ploughing in stump ground with a team of nine pair of cattle for Sol Cunningham, we were going along, making not very smooth work among rocks and stumps. Well, one day the point o' the plough struck fair against a stump four feet through, split it square across the heart, and I was flyin' the plough through, when the thought flashed through my mind that the pesky stump might snap together and pinch my toes, so I just gripped the plough handles firm and swung my feet up out o' the way, and the stump sprung back and catched the stack of my pantaloons. That brought everything up stannin'. Well, I tightened my hold, an' Jim Swithin, he and Sol were drivin', they spoke to the cattle, an' we snaked that stump out by the roots, and it had awful long ones."

"It must a been strainin' on your suspenders," said the other.

"My wife knit them," was the reply.

THREE MONKEYS.—The learned author of "The Descent of Man," in noting that the animals often suffer from the diseases that affect ourselves, might have added that, in some cases, they are not free from our vices. Also, According to a recent letter from Dar, for in Africa the monkeys of that region are inordinately fond of a kind of beer made by the natives, who use the beverage to capture their similal poor relations. Having placed quantities of the beer where the monkeys can get at it, the natives wait until their victims are in various degrees of intoxication, and when they then mingle with them the poor creatures are too much fuddled to recognize the differences between negro and ape. When a negro takes the hand of one of them to lead him off some other fond creature clings to the hand of the latter and another to his hand, and thus a single negro may be seen carrying off a string of staggering monkeys. When secured, the beer is administered in decreasing quantities, so that they may only gradually awaken to the sad results of their spree. It is to be regretted that no philanthropist has yet arisen to establish a Band of Hope among his unfortunate fellows.
